HAT MAKERS ON STRIKE

Manufacturers Refuse to Longer Permit Union Label

PLACED IN THEIR GOODS.

President Mundheim Says This Action, Decided Upon by Unanimous Vote, is Due to Agreement With Geyer Company Not Being Carried Out.

Newark, N. J., Jan. 15.—Seventy-five hat factories, employing from 20,000 to 25,000 persons, will be affected by the decision of the Associated Hat Manufacturers, just promulgated, to discontinue the use of the union label in all factories represented in the association. The entire hat manufacturing industry of the country is likely to be affected.

The issuance of this order was at once followed by strikes in the hat factories at Orange, N. J., where 4,000 men went out, and at Brooklyn, where 500 employees of Samuel Mundheim & Co. put down their tools and walked out.

Samuel Mundheim is president of the association. He said the vote of the manufacturers to discontinue the use of the label was unanimous; that every member of the association was either present at the meeting when this course was decided upon or represented by proxy. Mr. Mundheim gave as the reason for this action union employees failed to keep the working agreement made with the Geyer Hat company of Philadelphia. Four hundred hatters employed by the New Milford Hat company of New Milford, Conn., struck upon orders received from the headquarters, at Danbury, Conn., of the United Hatters of North America.

At South Norwalk, Conn., 700 employees of Crobit & Knapp, makers of hats, walked out because the firm refused to longer permit the use of the union label in their goods. Union hatters at Danbury, Conn., employed by the Associated Hat Manufacturers are out.

W. J. BETTERTON DEAD.

Prominent Citizen of Dallas Stricken With Apoplexy and Soon Expires.

Dallas, Jan. 15.—While conversing with a couple of friends at his office, Colonel W. J. Betterton was stricken with apoplexy Friday morning. An ambulance was summoned and the colonel placed therein to be conveyed to his residence. Just at the gate was reached the aged man gasped for the last time.

Colonel Betterton, who was a citizen of Dallas thirty years and prominently identified with her business enterprises, notably in the lumber line, was about seventy-eight years of age. He was a native of Virginia and a gallant Confederate soldier, attaining the rank of colonel by distinguished battlefield service. He was talking of the four years' strife with his two friends, who also wore the gray, and was laughing over an anecdote one of the two had just related when the fatal stroke came.

Sought Shelter in Hut.

El Paso, Jan. 15.—A searching party discovered Rev. W. T. Tracy, an Episcopal clergyman of Brooklyn, missing two days, in an abandoned hut in the Guadalupe mountains, where he sought shelter in a snowstorm.

To Protect Shell Fisheries.

New York, Jan. 15.—The initial steps in the organization of the proposed National Association of Commissioners of Shell Fisheries were taken today, when representatives of a dozen or more of the coastline States met in conference at the offices of the New York State Commission in this city. Charles H. Bacon, chief of the bureau of Shell Fisheries of New Jersey, presided at the meeting.

The object of the new organization will be to bring together the States' representatives on boards and commissions, which have the care of this great natural resource of the country. Although the shellfish industry on the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts amount to millions of dollars yearly it is only recently that the states have awakened to the necessity for taking steps towards its conservation. The United States Government has announced its readiness to aid the association in its work.

ANTI CONTENTION.

Practically All of It In Minority Report of Committee.

Austin, Jan. 15.—Practically the whole contention of those opposed to prohibition submission is contained in the minority report of the house committee on constitutional amendments, to whom was referred the submission amendment, which was presented and signed by Standifer, Buchanan and others. The minority report contains four reasons summarized why the amendment should not be submitted, as follows:

First. No constitutional amendment can be submitted unless it has two-thirds vote of the members of representatives of the people, and fifty-four representatives have been instructed to vote against submission.

Second. A state convention has no authority to bind legislators of the dominant party contrary to the expressed will of the people.

Third. That under section 120 of the election law, it is provided that no state convention shall ever place in its demand for specific legislation unless it is submitted to a direct vote of the people.

Fourth. That the attempt of the submission element of the Democratic party to override a direct vote of the people, as expressed under section 120, is in violation of said section.

Six Thieves Arrested.

Messina, Jan. 15.—Six thieves were arrested. They escaped from prison during the earthquake.

Fifteen Years For Banker.

Pittsburg, Jan. 15.—The jury in the case of J. F. Rinehart of Waynesburg, Pa., a banker, returned a verdict of guilty. Judge Young immediately sentenced Rinehart to fifteen years in the penitentiary. Rinehart was former cashier and vice president of the Farmers and Producers National bank of Waynesburg, Pa., which institution failed for $2,000,000.

Will Not Reopen Dispensary.

Guthrie, Jan. 15.—Governor Haskell will not reopen the state dispensary, despite the decision of the supreme court that the dispensary was not abolished by a vote of the people at the last election. He says he will act only when the supreme court orders him directly to reopen it. It is generally believed that the court will not direct this action.

Special Order For Tuesday.

Nashville, Jan. 15.—The bill prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in this state came up on final reading in the senate Friday, but after several amendments the bill was allowed to be laid over as a special order for Tuesday afternoon.

Neck Broken.

Sapulpa, Okla., Jan. 15.—George Johnson, aged thirty-four, of Shaw, Kan., was instantly killed while in the employ of the Kansas-Oklahoma Oil company. A pulley broke and Johnson jumped for a brake. The pin on the wheel struck him under the chin, breaking his neck. His body was sent home.

Riot Causes Six Fatalities.

Rio de Janeiro, Jan. 15.—The riot due to the popular demonstrations against the American-Canadian Street Car company because of its refusal to reduce fares and change routes have practically ended. Six persons have been killed and 120 wounded in the disorders.

To Be Rebuilt.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The senate adopted Senator Owen's joint resolution authorizing the secretary of the interior to use $40,000 of the bids belonging to the Osages to rebuild the boys' dormitory of the Osage Indian training school, recently burned.

Compulsory Fumigation.

New Orleans, Jan. 15.—That all sleeping cars and day coaches must be fumigated at least once a month and all public buildings every three months is one of the number of the stringent regulations adopted by the state board of health. In line with the contemplated crusade against tuberculosis it was determined that no child suffering from tuberculosis in any form will be allowed to attend the public schools of the state and no adult so afflicted will be permitted to teach in schools.

BILLS IN BATCHES.

Numerous Measures Continue to Pour In.

Austin, Jan. 15.—Large batches of bills were introduced in both branches of the legislature today.

In the house a resolution was adopted to sell the postoffice in the house. Among the bills in the house these were introduced: By Robertson and Schluter, appropriating $250,000 to build a land office on the site of the old temporary capitol; by Cable, levying an occupation tax of $2,000 on dealers in "frosty;" by Ray, guarantee bank deposits measure; by Anderson, prohibiting teaching a foreign language in public schools; by Jenkins, the establishment of an asylum for inebriates and appropriating $125,000 therefor.

A concurrent resolution was introduced in the senate by Senator Brachfield, providing for a searching investigation of the state penitentiary system by the legislature. The resolution provides for the appointment of a committee of three senators and four members of the house to make the investigation, who will be empowered to take oaths, summon witnesses, etc. A similar resolution was offered in the house.

In the senate Senators Mayfield and Meachum introduced the Mayfield bill, prohibiting betting on horses, races or book-making or selling pools. This bill failed in the last legislature.

Senator Masterson introduced two bills—one providing for the promulgation of tariff of rates in conformity with the decision of the supreme court in the Galveston chamber of commerce and Brownsville road differential case, the other providing for the complete abolishment of the Houston-Galveston differential on all commodities except cotton. A bill on that commodity is to be introduced later. Other bills introduced were for a new pure food law, by Hayter; also a bill by Terrell of Bowie, providing that no persons shall be sued in any other county except that of his residence.

Numerous petitions were presented asking for submission of the prohibition issue, also a drug vendor's law and passage of a compulsory education law.

The house committee on constitutional amendments to whom was referred the proposed prohibition submission amendment had a meeting and decided to report a resolution favorably, with an adverse minority report. An attempt was made by Gaines to have the election on the question held on April 1, instead of the first Tuesday in August, as provided in the resolution, but he failed. Majority and minority reports were submitted.

The house refused to allow members $10 per day for telegraph and long-distance service by voting down a resolution on that subject.

A committee on the part of the house, consisting of Messrs. Von Rosenberg, Marshall and McLean, was appointed to count the votes cast for governor and lieutenant governor and arrange for the inauguration.

Representative Fitzhugh in the house introduced a bill authorizing the comptroller to cancel license of any saloon disobeying the Sunday closing law. It provides for the location of saloons on basis of population and elevates the traffic so as to make it impossible to maintain liquor dives.

Mr. Fitzhugh was appointed chairman of the house committee on rules. For instituting a thorough investigation of the penitentiary and state farms, Representatives McDonald, Standifer and Adams offered a resolution providing for a committee of four senators and three representatives who shall conduct the probe. The committee will report Feb. 15.

Messrs. Watson, Masterson and Weinert in the senate presented a minority report on the constitutional amendment for prohibition submission.

A measure was offered in the house asking for $150,000 to build a tuberculosis hospital in a city to be designated by a commission. Another appropriation bill calls for $250,000 to erect an agricultural building at Austin.

HAINS ACQUITTED.

After Being Out Several Hours the Jury Returns This Verdict.

Flushing, N. Y., Jan. 15.—After being out since 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the members retired to deliberate, the jury in the case of Thornton Hains, on trial charged with complicity in the murder of W. E. Annis, returned about 1 o'clock Friday afternoon a verdict of acquittal. The jury came into court at 10 o'clock. It was then said to stand ten to two for acquittal. After hearing portions of the testimony and sections of the judge's charge read again the jury again retired at 10:25. The killing of Annis occurred at Bayside Yacht club Aug. 15, 1908. Hains stood guard over his brother, Captain Hains, while the latter shot down Annis, but did not actually participate in the shooting.

THOUGHT HIM NIGHT RIDER.

Sensational and Laughable Incident Occurs in Dallas Courthouse.

Dallas, Jan. 15.—Quite a flurry was created in the Dallas county courthouse.

The tax collector's office was filled with people paying their indebtedness to the state and county and many were lined up. One man, when asked his occupation by the deputy preparing his poll tax receipt, was understood to say, "night rider." In an instant the line was broken and a stampede seemed likely when the gentleman who had caused the commotion calmed everybody by loudly proclaiming, "I am a typewriter agent." A general laugh followed.

COUPLE IN CUSTODY.

Emma Goldman and "King of Hoboes" Put Under Arrest.

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Emma Goldman, the anarchist, and Ben Reitman, who is widely known as the "king of hoboes," were arrested as they were about to hold one of eight meetings they had previously announced, and lodged in the city prison on eight charges of conspiracy to rout. "Rout," as defined by the state statutes, is an assembly of two or more persons at a meeting where measures are advocated which, if actually carried out, would lead to a riot. The bail was fixed at $1,000 cash or $2,000 bond on each count.

ALMOST A RACE RIOT.

Arrest of Murder Suspect All but Leads to Clash.

Muskogee, Okla., Jan. 15.—A race riot was nearly precipitated Friday at Beggs, a village near here, when a burly negro, suspected of being a Mississippi murder fugitive, resisted arrest.

The town marshal approached the suspect in the postoffice and ordered him to surrender. The man bolted, effecting his escape from the building and taking refuge in a negro hut near by. Securing a shotgun, he continued his flight, pursued by the marshal and some twenty whites, attracted by the shooting. The negro was finally seriously wounded and captured. Much excitement prevailed among the negroes of the village, but no outbreak occurred.

TEXAS NAVY DOCK.

Several Bills Have Been Introduced Favoring Four Coast Points.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Representative Burgess introduced in the house a resolution authorizing a commission to inspect Aransas Pass with a view to locating a naval dock there.

Moore has a similar resolution for Morgan's Point on Buffalo bayou. Greg has one for Galveston and Cooper one for Sabine, Tex., expects the committee on naval affairs to authorize the commission to inspect all these points and then make a report in favor of one of them.

Sheppard Sanguine.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Congressman Sheppard expresses confidence that the cotton refund tax bill he introduced will carry, but he expects a fight. He says all Texas, all southern and a number of northern congressmen will support the bill, which is to restore $5,000,000 with interest to Texas who paid the cotton tax from 1862 to 1887. Mr. Sheppard says the collection was unconstitutional, as Texas was not represented in congress then. The amount with interest will reach nearly $20,000,000.

Remembers Irish People.

New Orleans, Jan. 15.—Abiding love for his motherland, Ireland, was materially evidenced by John Reilly, deceased, as shown in his will, just probated here. A considerable portion of his estate, said to amount to about $50,000, is left to the "people of Ireland." Distribution will be directed by Bishop Heslin of Mississippi.

BRYAN, TEXAS, JANUARY 16, 1909

Hurrah for the bucket brigade! Every man of them deserves a hero medal.

The firemen yesterday morning were in a position similar to that of the patriots at Bunker Hill when their ammunition gave out.

It is the irony of fate that The Pilot, which has made such a strenuous fight for better water service, should be the first victim of a disastrous fire.

There are just two horns to the dilemma: Shall the city buy the plant of the Bryan Water, Ice and Electric Light Co., or build new plant? Why not submit both propositions to a vote of the people?

A citizen who resides on South Dallas street said yesterday that there are six families at the south dependent on one three-quarter pipe for their water supply. Such a condition is simply intolerable.

The Bryan Way.

Notwithstanding the fact that they were burned out Friday morning, saving practically nothing except their cash register and office adding machine, Jno. M. Lawrence & Co. did not turn down an order. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon they had sold and delivered $400 worth of goods. They are in business, tho the remnants of their office fixtures are piled in the streets and they have no telephone connection, yet they are selling goods, and delivering promptly. They are using the wire and drawing on the local wholesale house. It's the Bryan way. If the whole town would burn, the enterprising merchants here would be doing business with their usual promptness and satisfaction, as soon as they could get out of the tottering buildings in which they were located.

Rev. Frank Nash of Elmore, Robertson county, arrived this afternoon to fill his regular appointment today and tomorrow at Tryan. He was met at the station here by Mr. J. W. Shepard.

A $50,000 BLAZE

Fire Destroyed the Perkins Building Friday Morning.

ENTAILING A LOSS

Of Property in the Amount Stated.
City Council Met to Investigate
Insufficient Water Supply.

Fire completely destroyed the Perkins brick building here at 6:30 o'clock this morning, entailing heavier financial loss than any blaze which has occurred here since the cotton compress burned some four years ago. The building was owned by Mr. F. D. Perkins, who resides in McKinney. It was better known, however, as the Astin building, and was erected in 1874. It was a large structure, extending entirely through the block from Main to Bryan street, on each of which it fronted 50 feet, with a side wall of 200 feet along Mosley.

The first floor of the building was occupied by the First National Bank, Jno. M. Lawrence & Co., grocers, and Joe Kosh's saloon. The bank occupied 25 feet fronting Main, on the corner of Mosely, extending back for a distance of 100 feet, Mr. Kosh occupying 25 feet fronting Bryan, on the corner of Mosely, and extending back to the bank's partition wall, and Jno. M. Lawrence & Co. occupying 25 feet front on Main, and extending through to Bryan.

A portion of the second floor of the building, about 25 by 100 feet, was occupied by the Bryan Evening Pilot, owned by Mr. A. J. Buchanan. The remainder of the second floor was divided into offices for professional men, but were all vacant at the time of the fire, except the Pilot office and that occupied by Messrs. A. K. Brown and Whit Doremus, representing Busch & Witherspoon, cotton buyers of Waco, who lost all office furniture.

Messrs. Martin & Lock confectioners, occupying the building adjoining on the south are losers to some extent by having one of their expensive showcases broken and their furniture damaged in moving out.

The total property loss resulting, is about $50,000.

Vice-President Boatwright of the First National Bank stated that his institution was fully insured and will not suffer any loss whatever. The bank vault is intact, and only the furniture was burned. Until further arrangements are made the First National will transact business at Mr. E. J. Fountain's store on Main street.

Lawrence & Co. lost all of their stock of groceries, but saved their books, cash registers and office adding machines. They were among the largest dealers in the city. They were insured to some extent.

Joe Kosh carried a large stock of liquors, wines, cigars, etc. He too had some insurance.

Mr. A. J. Buchanan, owner of the Pilot, lost everything he had in the building. The fire originated in his business office, and from there quickly burned through the composing room, his big Cranston cylinder printing machine and platen presses falling through to the Kosh saloon under his press room when the fire had burned away the supports beneath. Mr. Buchanan carried some insurance, but nothing like a sufficient amount to cover his loss.

Mr. Buchanan lost all, even his books and mailing lists and galleys.

Mr. Kosh will lose approximately $2,000, or perhaps a little more, lacking about that sum of having sufficient insurance to cover his stock.

Mr. John Daly Jr., was among the first at the fire. The fire truck was driven to the scene by Chief Hamilton, who rushed over and hitched the team to the hose wagon, the regular driver being confined to his home with gripple.

The fire was fought with buckets on account of weak pressure from the fire hydrants. Chief Hamilton stated to the Eagle man that had there been the usual pressure he could have confined the blaze to the second floor of the building, and believes that he could have prevented it burning into the press room of the Pilot office. Mr. Daly and others who fought the fire with the chief and members of the department are of the same opinion. A bucket brigade was organized and buckets purchased from a hardware store for the purpose of carrying the water to the roof of an adjoining building, where it was thrown on the fire. Some water was obtained for the buckets from the hydrants, which would yield a small quantity; nearby cisterns were also depleted of their supply which was poured on the fire.

With true Bryan grit, those burned out are getting in shape to continue business as nearly as possible without interruption. As stated, the First National merely moved its headquarters.

ters. The others did not fare so well, but Mr. Kosh stated that he would be open for business so soon as he could secure a location.

John M. Lawrence & Co. are ready to execute all orders; Mr. Buchanan was not prepared to say just what he would do, but it is more than likely that the Old Pilot will continue to aid in safely directing the course of affairs here.

The Water Supply.

The Eagle man called on Mr. Preston superintendent of the water company at 10 o'clock Friday morning, at the plant of the company to make inquiry in regard to the failure in the water supply. "said Mr. Preston, supply. "There was no failure in the supply," said Mr. Preston, but the trouble was with the foot valve on our big fire pump, and the breaking down of our small pump. The trouble with the big pump was, that the foot valve, which is connected to the 8 inch pipe, and placed near the bottom of the reservoir, twenty-five feet below the surface, got out of order, and no water Galley 2 Fire ... 778 could be obtained. The small pump broke down under extraordinary pressure."

Mr. Preston had on hand a new foot valve, but so long as the one in use did the work there was no necessity to change it. It is likely that a pebble or some other slight obstruction became lodged between the wing of the valve and the flange, which caused the trouble, and brought about a condition which could not be foreseen.

The losses occasioned by the fire this morning are about as follows:

Mr. Perkins, on building, valued at $25,000, on which he carried $12,050.

Jno. M. Lawrence & Co., grocers, who had about $15,000 stock on hand, with about $7,500 insurance.

A. J. Buchanan, $5,500, insured for $1,500.

First National Bank, furniture and fixtures, $1,250, fully insured.

Joe Kosh, $2,500 stock, insured for $1,500.

The telephone company lost some poles and wire, and are to the bad by about $100. Martin & Lock are also losers in a small amount, occasioned by removing their expensive store furniture across the street and breaking some glasses.

City Council Meeting.

The city council was called in special session at 11:30 to consider the failure of the water company to supply water at the fire Friday morning. The mayor read the call suggesting an investigation, which was signed by Aldermen Derden, Brandon, Fountain, Covey and Saunders. The meeting was attended by all the aldermen, the chief of police, and the chief of the fire department.

Mr. Fountain moved that Superintendent Preston of the Waterworks and Machinist Lowry be invited to come before the city council and explain the failure to supply water. Mr. Preston was telephoned for and appeared. While awaiting the arrival of Mr. Preston the council discussed informally the existing contract between the city of Bryan and the water company.

Miss Knowles, stenographer in City Secretary Hines' office was requested to make a stenographic report of the meeting.

When Mr. Preston arrived he was questioned particularly by the mayor and interrogated incidentally by members of the council in regard to the insufficiency of the supply of water. Replying directly to the question asked by the mayor, Mr. Preston stated that the foot valve on the 8-inch pump refused to work. (The position of this valve has already been stated.) The smaller pump was used, but was put up too high, and a jam nut on the inside of the steam chest was broken, which stopped the smaller pump from working. Is now pumping water out of reservoir so as to repair the foot valve on the big pump.

The Mayor—How much water was in the standpipe when the fire alarm was turned in? "I don't know but it was very low."

Alderman Covey—"How much water is in the standpipe when the needle stands at 12?" There was some discussion here and other questions were asked.

The mayor—"The point I want to make is, if the standpipe had been full, would we have had sufficient water pressure?" Mr. Preston—"You would have had pressure for a while. Couldn't say how long, because, when a fire occurs we cut off standpipe and use pump. It gives direct and better pressure."

The mayor—"The pipe contains about 85,000 gallons, doesn't it?" "About."

The mayor—"How long a time would be required to empty the standpipe, or lower the water to such an extent as to make the pressure insufficient for fire purposes, say, if the firemen were using a two-inch nozzle?" (The firemen use 3-4 inch nozzles, which was explained by Chief Hamilton.)

This question brought up some technical discussion as to the amount of pressure exerted as water is lowered. It was brought out that the standpipe pressure is not available for fire purposes below 65. Replying to an inquiry of the mayor, Mr. Preston said he could not tell how much water was in the standpipe Friday morning at 6 o'clock. The pressure was weak, not enough for fire protection. The only fire protection was supplied by the fire pumps and the reservoir. He always depended on this rather than the standpipe. The pump is sufficient.

"How do you examine the valve?" was asked. "The valve cannot be examined. It is under 25 feet of water. The occurrence was usual; he had held the present position for nine years and nothing of the kind had ever happened before. Had ample supply of water, if the pumps could have been used. The supply of water in the reservoir would have furnished pressure for five hours, throwing three streams of water on the fire.

"How long after the fire alarm is sounded should you be able to give direct pressure?" "four or five minutes."

Mr. Fountain—"Who was in charge of the plant at the time of the fire?" "Mr. Preston stated that he kept two white men at the plant, one of whom slept there. When there is an alarm of fire he stated that he always went to the plant himself. Was at home when fire occurred Friday morning.

Mr. Preston was excused.

Mr. Fountain moved that the mayor appoint a committee of three members of the council to investigate further into the failure of the water company to furnish a supply of water at the fire, and ascertain whether or not this failure was due to the employment of incompetent help by the superintendent of the plant. The committee to report to the mayor, so soon as it can make its investigation, and the mayor call a special meeting of the council to receive the report and the recommendations of the committee. Carried.

The mayor appointed Aldermen Fountain, Covey and Brandon.

Adjourned.

THE PRICE IS SOARING

Since the Recent Holidays Cotton Has Advanced

ONE CENT A POUND

In the Bryan Market—Higher Friday than Galveston or Houston—Middling Sold at 9c Yesterday.

The price of cotton in Bryan has advanced just one cent a pound since the holidays.

The Bryan market was 1-8c higher than Houston of Galveston Friday, on a basis of 9 cents for middling. One hundred bales were sold.

The Bryan market is the best interior spot market in the state. No, we will say more than that. Bryan is the best spot market in the state. The quality is determined by the price, and the price here was 1-8 higher than at Houston or Galveston Friday, and 1-4 higher than these points last Monday.

The quotations were published. To a man who wants the most for his crop and the most for his money Bryan is the place to trade.

Liverpool opened unchanged yesterday, and spot sales of 10,000 bales were made during the session. The American markets opened unchanged, ruled narrow until noon, and closed 7 to 8 points higher than the day previous.

There is a continuous advance in the price of the staple, which is in good demand by both European and American spinners. The South is an unusually heavy taker of the staple at present, and Southern mills are doing good business.

It is rumored that Mr. Craig, the prominent bear leader is now a yoke mate of McFadden the bull. It is also said that Theodore Price has taken the bear side of the argument. There will be something doing if these interests tangle up.

The local market is selling on a higher basis than for three or four months past and cotton was eagerly sought for on a basis of 9c Friday, which was fully 1-8c above Houston or Galveston quotations.

Friday's prices: Low middling, 8c Strict low middling, 8 5-8c Middling 9c Strict middling, 9 3-16c Good middling, 9 3-8c

In the columns of the daily and weekly Eagle these prices will be placed in the homes of 1,700 families in this trade territory. There are perhaps 2,000 bales of cotton owned by readers of the Eagle who will peruse this article. We would ask the owners of these 2,000 bales of cotton to compare these prices with those offered by buyers anywhere in the state of Texas, and decide whether or not it will pay them to haul their staple to Bryan, store it in the warehouse here and sell on the market when they get good and ready and the price suits them.

Mrs. Mendola Dead. Mrs. L. B. Bendola, wife of Mr. L. B. Bendola, head clerk for Jno. M. Lawrence & Co., died suddenly at 12:05 o'clock Friday. The death was due to heart failure. Less than half an hour before she was stricken, she had conversed with friends over the telephone, and remarked at the time that the fire of the morning had affected her but she believed that the attack would pass away, and she would be well presently. Instead, the next message over the phone announced the death of this most estimable lady. Mrs. Mendola had been in the city during the forenoon, and the knowledge of her death caused universal expressions of surprise and sorrow.

Mrs. Mendola was a native of Galveston, and a graduate of the Ursuline school of that city. She was president of the Sacred Heart League of St. Joseph's church (Catholic) of which denomination she was a most consistent and devout member.

A husband and an adopted child survive.

The funeral will occur at St. Joseph's church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in the city cemetery.

On Monday morning at 9 o'clock solemn requiem mass will be said at St. Joseph's.

"Our Boys" Tonight. The Spooner-Wallock Company, one of the best repertoire companies on the road, and undoubtedly the best popular price players, presented Carmen last night to a large audience. The company is playing to increasing business ever night, and is giving splendid satisfaction.

This afternoon a matinee will be given at 10 and 25 cents, and tonight will close the week's engagement. Of the attraction for tonight, the Palestine paper says:

"The great comedy 'Our Boys,' by Henry J. Byron, that had a run of 1500 nights in London and another almost as long in New York, was presented by Spooner-Wallock combination to a large house. We have seen some fine comedies this week, but 'Our Boys' is the real winner. Mr. Spooner as Perky Middlewick can disperse the worst case of blues imaginable. The comedy will be presented tonight, and if the world is not treating you right or if you feel that you are in danger of melancholia, go to see 'Our Boys' tonight, and the writer will wager that you will go home cured. Miss Allie's delightful specialties, deserve special mention. Also the other specialties, four in number, which are all entertaining and instructive."

I wish to thank the firemen and bucket brigade for their noble assistance at the disastrous fire of the 14th and I feel that if there had been an adequate water supply much could have been saved that is now lost.

THE WEATHER. Special to the Bryan Morning Eagle. New Orleans, La., Jan. 15.—Tonight and Saturday, fair; colder.—Cline.

WELCOME TO TAFT.

Atlanta Welcomes the President With Banners and Bands.

Special to the Bryan Morning Eagle.

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 15— All Atlanta today lent itself to the reception to President elect William H. Taft and his party, who arrived in the city from Augusta early this afternoon for a visit that will continue over the great part of tomorrow. The thousands of residents of Atlanta were multiplied by throngs of sightseers from the surrounding country and neighboring states. Everywhere in the business section of the city decorations were plentiful. The national colors floated in all parts of town, from the fashionable homes lining Peachtree street as well as from hotels and business houses in the downtown section. Many pictures of Mr. Taft were to be seen among the decorations.

The official reception committee, including Mayor Maddox, members of the city council and representatives of the chamber of commerce, met the special train en route to the city and officially welcomed the distinguished guest. The train arrived at the terminal station exactly on time. On the station platform were other members of the reception committee, together with a large crowd of spectators. A committee of ladies were on hand to greet the ladies in the Taft party.

The party proceeded at once to the Piedmont Hotel, where luncheon was served in Mr. Taft's apartments. The journey to the hotel was made in automobiles through streets that were thronged with cheering crowds.

The main feature of Mr. Taft's visit is to be the chamber of commerce banquet tonight, at which Mr. Taft is to be the chief speaker. Arrangements on an elaborate scale have been completed for the function, which is to take place in the auditorium-annex. The banquet room has been laid out with the tables forming an American flag, the colors done in flowers—roses carnations and violets. This flower flag apparently hangs from the ceiling behind the speaker's table, falling down to the floor and crossing the speaker's table in making the field of stars, with the guests' table (at right angles to the speakers' table) forming the stripes. When the toastmaster, who will be President Asa G. Candler of the chamber of commerce, first rises to speak what apparently is a solid bank of ferns behind the speakers' table will abruptly rise to the ceiling, drawn by invisible wires, revealing the field of blue flowers and white stars and creating the flag effect. Myriads of electric lights will sparkle throughout the scented mass of color.

Covers will be laid for several hundred guests, among whom will be governors, congressmen and scores of other notables who have been invited to partake of 'possum and 'taters with the next president. Mr. Taft's menu will lie in a brass casket. It will be in booklet form, the outer cover bearing a heavy gold plate with Mr. Taft's name engraved thereon. The menu will be bound in leather and will bear among other emblems the Phoenix of Atlanta.

According to present arrangements Mr. Taft will remain in the city until a late hour tomorrow afternoon. Tomorrow morning will be spent in an automobile trip to places of interest in and about the city. Later in the day it is expected that the president will address a gathering of the negro residents of Atlanta.
